Apply to Your Business - Worksheet

Fill this in once. The result is the seed of your own CLAUDE.md, AGENTS.md, and the four log files. Print, write by hand, then transcribe into your dashboard. Or fill it directly in the brain - the headings match the templates exactly.

1. Identity

Business name (or operator name if solo):

Legal entity:

Primary domain or product:

Working hours and time zone:

2. Repository map

List every repo your agents might touch. One row per repo.

Repo	Purpose	Domain

3. Standing code rules

List the universal code rules that apply to every product repo. Add as you accumulate; never delete.

4. Commit conventions

Commit author (exactly as in git config):

Commit message format (e.g. [YYYY-MM-DD] Claude Code - feat: short description):

PR vs direct push to main:

5. Agent stack

Which agents do you actually use? Strike out the ones you do not.

Agent	Role you give it	Primary surface
Claude Code
Codex
Cursor
ChatGPT
Manus / Dispatch
Other:

6. Standing facts (5 entries)

Five short facts an agent must know about you. Date them today; submit them as memory entries.

Fact 1:

Fact 2:

Fact 3:

Fact 4:

Fact 5:

7. Active project (one project to start)

Project codename:

Phase or scope locked:

Out of scope (for this phase):

When the worksheet is full, transcribe each section to its corresponding file in your brain. CLAUDE.md gets sections 1-4. AGENTS.md gets section 5. memory-types/user.md gets section 6. memory-types/project.md gets section 7.
